These retainers are designed to push on a screw or bolt in order to simplify retain it whilst in transit prior to final assembly operations. The teeth on the fastener fold flat when the mating panel is presented and screwed down with minimal thickness added to the assembly. Recent regulations regarding movable guards and the retention of their retaining bolts is a good example of an application where the product can be used.

All dimensions shown are subject to engineering tolerances. These fasteners are supplied in Bronze and Varnish BV finish as standard other finishes may be subject to a minimum order quantity
